LIBERTY LOAN COMMITTEE

On Tuesday evening, April 2, at Police Headquarters, Atlantic avenue, Nantasket a meeting was held to form a committee for the Third Liberty Loan for the town of Hull as required by the Liberty Loan Committee of New England. This committee will be composed of workers who will thoroughly canvass each district of the town. Help your town when you help your country. Many people do not seem to realize that Liberty Bonds, W. S. Stamps, etc., can only be handled by allotting to each state and town, or city, its quota, based on its population and assessed wealth. Every Hull citizen, or tax payer, who contributes to any of these funds through agencies outside of the town is depriving our town of the standing and prestige which rightfully belongs to it, and is also at the same time relieving citizens of other communities from subscribing their just and fair share of the patriotic work. If circumstances make it necessary to transmit funds through out side banks, committees, etc., great care should be taken to have them credited to Hull; if it is to maintain its due standing through the ready and unfailing patriotism of its people.

TROOP 1 BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

Hull, Mass.

Troop meets Fridays, 7 p. m., at Hull Public Library. Frank Kingdon, Scoutmaster; C. V. Nickerson, Chairman Troop Committee.

During the first and second campaign of the United States Liberty Loan, the Boy Scouts of America were called upon, by their National President, Mr. Colin Livingstone, and by their Honorary President, Mr. Woodrow Wilson to distribute posters and to do their utmost in procuring subscriptions. Without doubt, the Boy Scouts will be again called upon to do the same as they had done during the two previous campaigns. The Troop officials are earnestly hoping that the people of Hull will subscribe to the third Liberty Loan through the Boy Scouts of America. If the Scouts are called upon to procure subscriptions, a message from the President of the United States will appear on the poster, and probably on the same sheet will be a detachable application for subscription through the Boy Scouts.

BAY STATE ASKS FOR INCREASE

A new schedule of street railway fares was filed yesterday with the Public Service Commission by Receiver onham of the Bay State Street Railway Company, covering city and suburban fares, and linking up the cities and country on the zone system. This schedule will go into effect on April 26. The new mileage system does much to simplify what had grown to be a most complicated fare system. The city patrons will pay six cents within a new city zone, which covers about three mile area in the middle of each city. For those riding beyond the city zone into the fringe adjacent the fare will be 7-1/2, in tickets of 6 for 45c, and beyond this territory, in the country section, will be from two cents to three cents a mile, depending on the density of traffic.

"The financial condition which brought about the Receivership is even worse now than it was when the Receiver was appointed," said Receiver Wallace B. Donham.

"The amount of money paid to the men has been recently increased substantially and will be increased, under the contract, again on May 1st. The plan for cooperative savings, in which I have great confidence, is of course just starting; so that at present, under the two-cent an hour guaranty, we paying out substantially increased amounts.

CONFLAGRATION AT MARSHFIELD

Sparks from the 2:15 train started a fire Monday afternoon which swept for five miles, destroying 20 summer cottages, including the large Hinckley residence at Rehoboth Terrace, and was only put out after aid had been summoned from Hull, Plymouth, Pembroke, Cohasset, Scituate, Duxbury and Hanover.

The fire was one of the most disastrous that the South Shore has seen for many years and the damage is estimated at $75,000.

The fire started about one-half mile south of the Marshfield depot and with a high wind to aid reached Rehoboth terrace, where there are located many large mansions of wealthy Boston people. For a while it threatened Brant Rock and Ocean Bluffs, but city firemen worked on the part of the fire-fighters checked its course. Only chemicals and a bucket brigade to keep them supplied were available for fire fighting purposes, as there is no water system.

As the fire raged on, it cut a swathe about two miles wide, burning in its path the summer homes of A. P. Brown, William Brown, A. H. Sherman, W. P. Sawyer, B. M. Sherrill and E. W. Sargent. All of these were unoccupied, with the exception of the Sargent residence, which Mr. and Mrs. Sargent with their two children were opening for the summer.

"Hull's Work in the Fire"

Central Fire Station Engine broke down a short distance from the fire. The Hull Village engine went down to the Central Engine home. The men from the Waveland Engine, that went were: John L. Mitchell, Fred Mitchell, Horace Ettinger, John Hastings, Frank Thomas, Joe Hennegan. The Greenhill Engine towed the Waveland Engine to Boston on Tuesday.

MR. AND MRS. SIDNEY DREW

In "KEEPING HER SMILING" a New Comedy at Ye Wilbur Theatre, Boston, Next Week, April 8th.

Under persuasion from Richard Walton Tully that his new offering, "Keep Her Smiling," provided unusual opportunity for their special talents, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew will appear in that comedy when it is presented at Ye Wilbur Theatre, Boston, next week, beginning Monday, April 8th.

Mr. Drew comes of that great Drew family, famous in the American theatre. His talents gained him a big place in the affections of the public of the vaudeville world and after that he found new worlds to conquer in the realm of motion pictures. But the picture world is a silent one and Mr. and Mrs. Drew once more felt the call to really feel and know their audiences across the footlights, particularly as Mr. Tully had found so admirably a play for their interpretation.

"Keep Her Smiling" is a comedy of modern American life. It was written by John Hunter Booth, on a theme suggested by characters in a series of stories by Edgar Franklin, which appeared in the Saturday Evening Post. For those playgoers who have been so fortunate as to see Mr. Booth's dramatic version of "The Masquerader," there will be no question as to the craftsmanship with which he has wrought the play. It is being rehearsed and produced under the personal supervision of Mr. Tully.

For the company of some twenty players with which Mr. Tully will surround Mr. and Mrs. Drew, he has engaged De Witt C. Jennings, Mabel Turner, Lincoln Plumer, Vira Rial, John Washburn, Lurita Stone, Daisy Rudd and others. The play is in three acts and two acts of attractive scenery will be used in the play.

Optimistic Thought.

An amiable disposition is a good letter of introduction.

EASTER SERVICES, M. E. CHURCH

The program at the Hull M. E. Church on Easter Sunday was as usual interesting and fitting. The sacredness of the day. The preaching service in the morning was inspirational, Rev. Kingdon being at his best. The choir rendered several appropriate anthems and never did better. There was a large congregation present.

The concert in the evening was exceptionally good, the little ones all taking part in excellent manner and the choir selections were well rendered.

ON TO WASHINGTON

Mr. W. H. Mahoney, proprietor of the Riverside Hotel at Green Harbor was called to Washington March 29th for a meeting of the Food Commission with Mr. Hoover. On March 30 he attended another conference in New York at the Biltmore Hotel. Mr. Mahoney was ordered to report at both these conferences by Mr. Hoover.

POPE MEMORIAL EASTER CONCERT.

A very pleasing Easter programme was carried out by the Sunday School in the auditorium at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. All did finely, especially the little folks, and reflected great credit on Mrs. Burr, who always handles such affairs. The music, in charge of Mrs. C. E. West, was excellent, a pleasing feature of which was a duet by Miss Currie and Mrs. Burr. At the close of the exercises the pastor, Rev. Francis Sprague, made a brief address, after which every member of the school received a potted plant.

DAMON SCHOOL P. T. A.

The regular meeting will be held on Tuesday, April 9th, at 3.30 o'clock. Miss Elizabeth Jackson will be the speaker. Miss Jackson has been on the other side teaching in the schools for the blind. She speaks from personal knowledge and is said, by those who have heard her, to be very interesting. It is hoped that all members will try and be present and bring others with them.

THE THIRD LIBERTY LOAN

is to be launched on Saturday, April 6th. Hull's share of the three billion dollars is $50,000. This sum of money is to be raised in Hull in the NEXT THREE WEEKS. It means that every citizen must dig and dig deeply into his pocket. The war has ceased to be a great spectacle and has become a stern reality to America. Our boys "over there" expect us to stand back of them. If we do not we shall soon be paying tribute to the Kaiser. Let us put Hull on the map and show the world that she stands as a leader among the towns in her willingness to sacrifice for the sake of AMERICANISM, DEMOCRACY AND THE FREEDOM OF THE WORLD.

Frank Kingdon, Sec. The committee appointed to have charge of the Third Liberty Loan is Mr. C. V. Nickerson, chairman; Rev. Frank Kingdon, secretary. The committee consists of thirty prominent persons and the town will be divided into sections with a plan for a thorough campaign. Rev. Frank Kingdon has been appointed publicity chairman. Please notice the appeal to the public above.

LIBERTY LOAN.

The following ladies have been appointed by the chairman on the women's Liberty Loan committee for the "Town of Hull": Mrs. Carrie Mitchell, Mrs. J. R. Wheeler, Mrs. J. G. Clark, Mrs. N. I. Gilman, Mrs. H. H. Burr, Mrs. J. W. Sweeney.

You Can't Make an Omelet Without Breaking Eggs

TO win the war it is unavoidable that the rights of the individual be infringed. It is unavoidable that his personal comfort be temporarily ignored, his personal property temporarily conscripted, his personal fortunes temporarily impaired.

We Must Make Haste We Must Strike Hard

There is no time to weigh too carefully the questions of individual equity. The big job, the one job, is to win the war. There will be plenty of time to talk about it and adjust grievances afterward.

All arguments aside, we've got one big job on at the moment—to

Afternoon Frocks of Taffeta and Crepe

Truly the way of the seeker after pretty frocks that will make themselves generally useful, is easier than it used to be. What with combinations of materials and a vogue for simplicity together with much wartime latitude in the matter of dress, any clever woman can achieve afternoon and evening dresses—interchangeable—of course. Very formal dress may be left out of the reckoning, for that is a privilege of these times. But afternoon frocks are a necessity and seem to have benefited by the concentration of attention on them.

In the picture of two models designed for dressy wear, the needs of the slender figure have been considered in the frock at the left, and a fine style for plump figures is portrayed at the right. The gown at the left is of taffeta in a light russet or deep tan shade. It has a very new tunic effect arranged across the back where it is plaited and extended above the bodice in a fan. The skirt is merely a has strip of the silk, crushed about the waist and fastened at the left side. Crepe georgette with crosswise tucks and bordered with a fold makes the deep cape collar.

The always smart black and white combination has been worked out in new ways since the appearance of novel patterns in figured black and white crepe. In the frock at the right of the picture figured crepe is used for the underdress and sash, with bodice, sleeves and tunic made of plain black georgette. There is chemisette of fine tucked crepe in white. The open sleeves are noteworthy with three wide tucks as a finish. The wide girdle is draped very loosely about the figure below the waistline, with ends falling straight at the left side. There is nothing to break the straight lines of the silhouette. This, with the narrow underskirt and the undraped tunic and sash, all made in the softest and sheerest of fabrics, commend the frock to those who are ambitious to achieve in a fan. The skirt is merely a

Types in Millinery Styles

Whatever your mood this summer you may find a hat that expresses it, but modistes must be counting upon a cheerful, if not a gay frame of mind in their patrons; for hats are laden with bright flowers and kindly fruits. Plain satin and beaming ribbons lend their lovely tones to the millinery spring song and when black and dark colors are introduced they miss being somber by being brilliant. Everything gleams. If millinery means anything it surely emphasizes a joy in life, or at the very least a refusal to be downhearted this summer.

Three lovely hats in the group shown above are as different, each from the others, as can be, but are all types of the season's styles. The wide-brimmed hat at the center is pretty and picturesque enough to make a dent in a heart of stone. As a bridesmaid's hat it would tempt the bride to move forward her wedding day. It is of orchid pink crepe georgette and tulle lace braid, with brim lines that flow about the face in the loveliest of graceful curves. Small grapes clamber over the brim, matching their beauty with pink roses that deepen to red at the heart. The ruthless milliner has added a final touch of beauty in a long tie of satin ribbon that falls from under the brim at the back.

Just below there is a small hat with a soft crown that is posed over a wreath of roses set like a crown about the head. The hat is covered with crepe georgette and faced with chrysanthemum braid. The roses are set on a hand covered with black velvet ribbon that is tied in a small bow at the back. This is a new departure in hats, as lovely as it is unusual.

Speaking of the unusual in millinery, the smart black hat at the left of the picture may certainly lay claim to the distinction which belongs to the entirely new things in styles. This small black satin turban looks as if it were thatched, and it is, with a mass of shiny fibers that resemble grass. They may be silk braid and they may be Japanese alginate or glycerine ostrich. Whatever they are they are gleaming and rich looking. A flat wired ornament of grosgrain ribbon is as odd as the hat.

Alluring New Voiles.

Voiles shown this year are alluring, little flowered frocks, ruffled on the sides with vest and collar of sheer white organdie. Plaids in two colors are tucked in a plain color, have plain vest and organdie collar daintily embroidered in garlands of delicate coloring.

"Our boys must have their

This is a familiar appeal now to all of us.

Among those most in demand is the now famous "toasted" ciga-is something homelike and friendly to the boys in the sight of the familiar green packages with the red circle.

This homelike, appetizing quality of the LUCKY STRIKE cigarette is largely due to the fact that the Burley tobacco used in making it has been toasted. "It's toasted" was the "slogan" that made a great success of LUCKY STRIKE in less than a year. Now the American Tobacco Co. is making 15 million LUCKY STRIKE

HUMOR

Real Cause for Envy.
"There goes a man I truly envy."
"Rich, I suppose?"
"No. Not very."
"Famous, then?"
"Not at all."
"Sings well or has a gift that you long to possess?"
"Neither. He lives two doors from me and I overheard a ton of coal being shot into his cellar the other day."

BEST THING.

Smart—I never saw anything good about the work of Doctor Berryman.
Wise—Oh! yes. He takes a vacation of three months every year.

The Ego.
The ego is exceedingly strong
Though world catastrophes assail,
A simple toothache comes along
And makes a man forget them all.

A Small Part.
Father—Marry my daughter? Why, with your salary you couldn't even dress her.
Sutor—Oh, yes, I could. I could keep her in gloves.
Father—Do you mean to insinuate that my daughter wears only gloves?
Sutor—Pardon me; I asked only for her hand.

A Modest Suspicion.
"The audience cheered constantly when you made your speech."
"Yes," replied Senator Sorghum.
"They cheered every prominent name
I mentioned. I began to suspect that they'd rather hear themselves cheer than listen to me talk."

Getting Him Placed.
"Father," said the small boy, "what is a philosopher?"
"I never met but one, my son. He gave me the impression that a philosopher is the kind of man who is hypocrite enough to pretend he enjoys hard luck."

Unattached.
Mr. Styles—That hatpin keeps your hat from blowing off! I understand that.
Mrs. Styles—Why, of course.
"But what I don't understand is what prevents your hair from blowing off and taking the hat and the pin."

HIS LATE CALL.

"I saw a man so drunk today that he couldn't go."
"Perhaps he wasn't drunk."
"Oh! yes, he was."
"Well, you are not drunk, but you don't seem able to go."

Unmistakable Emphasis.
"Did Mrs. Jins place stress on any particular part of her argument with her husband?"
"That she did."
"Where did she put it?"
"On his head with the broomstick."

Happy to Lose Her.
Corn—Miss Antique is to be married.
Dorn—Indeed! Who is the happy man?
Corn—Her father. I think.

WAR AND YOUR DUTY

ment in Thrift Stamps, Contributions of Clothing, Conservation

(By GELETT BURGESS of the Vigilantes and the Prophet Isaiah.)
Yes, I, too, saw them, many I saw, Indoors and out, at the theater and at the rink, knitting, oh no, not khaki gray, but the gay colors of frivolity;
knitting pink and yellow and white;
knitting sweaters, sweaters, God help them, for their own soft shoulders.

Yet in the trenches of France our soldiers are shivering, shivering, freezing for gray, GRAY!

And thou saidst, I shall be a lady for ever; so that thou didst not lay these things to thy heart, neither didst remember the latter end of it.

Waste makes want and want makes woe! Does not England already know?
It has gone from Spend to Save, from Scrip to Starve. Do you know, oh careless daughters, that there even the garbage cans are inspected for waste—that one is fined for throwing away a slice of bread?

Yet here often more food is wasted at one dinner than would feed a family. Yes, wasted today—but what of tomorrow?

Upon the land of my people shall come up thorns and briers; yea, upon all the houses of joy in the joyous city.

Ice cream sodas and cakes and confectionery, hats, bags and hosiery—do you, too, watch and wonder how the young girls fling away the future?

Yet, still uncared-for, the orphans of France and Belgium, Serbia, thousands wait suffering to be fed. And OUR orphans—when the great shock falls—shall they, to, not need all that we can save?

Therefore hear now this, thou that are given to pleasure, that dwellst carelessly, that respect in thine heart, I say, and none else beside me; I shall not sit as a widow, neither shall I know the loss of children.

It is so easy to do—to save. It is so hard to do—to supply what prod-igality has squandered. It is so simple to do—to lend what we save to the government that our neighbor's fate may be averted or diminished.

Now, now, NOW! Must our slug-gards, male and female have to go to the ant to take heed—to comprehend how, if each lays up grain of provision against want, the whole hill shall be saved?

WE MUST HANG TOGETHER

(By THEODOSSIA GARRISON of the Vigilantes.)
Said Benjamin Franklin of Pennsylvania, putting down the pen with which he had just signed the Declaration of Independence:

"Gentlemen, we must all hang together or assuredly we shall all hang separately."

In a single phrase he combined an epigram, a warning, a declaration of faith and, incidentally, framed a motto for the present generation.

The value of team work for the national good is unquestioned; the value of the individual beyond the share he contributes to the general power is negligible. This undeniable fact, acknowledged by everybody and more often quoted than applied, waited to be demonstrated in its entirety by the Imperial German government, who, after its fashion, lost no time in claiming it as a personal discovery, marking it with the "Made in Germany" stamp and promptly christening it "efficiency."

Mind you, it is the German government that has made its people efficient, and that by the simple and direct method of the brutal overseer who lashed a gang of slaves into the perfect workmen that produced the 100 per cent result he desired.

The individual who with all his heart wishes a certain thing accomplished doesn't have to be whipped into his work, and the difference between slavery and freedom, between autocracy and democracy, lies in that individual himself.

"The nation," says President Wilson,
"needs all in it, but it needs each man,
not in the field that will most pleasure him, but in the endeavor that will best serve the common good."

Chinese Signal.
The Chinese do not beckon, as we do, with the palm of the hand turned up, the fingers curled and the index finger successively bending and straightening. They beckon with the fingers curled downward, sweeping the whole hand vigorously back and forth.

Daily Thought.
Politeness appears to have been invented to enable people who would naturally fall out, to live together in peace.

Mrs. Houston has recently returned from Ayer where she was engaged in nursing. She was located near Camp Devens and often visited there. Mr. and Mrs. Skelton motored out to see her while she was there. They made the trip in about 3 hours, and report good roads. Mrs. Houston says Camp Devens is a wonderful place and well worth a visit. It makes one patriotic to see the place where our brave boys are being made into intrepid soldiers.

The Third Liberty Loan Committee was formed at Police Headquarters on Tuesday evening. This goes to show that our police force are the right of men. HULLONIANS' HAPPY HOURS

Mrs. Stephen Moore, we are sorry to report is in very poor health.

Grass fires have called out the fire department several times recently. One of the prettiest sights we have ever seen is the big search light at Waveland playing over the water. It is worth a trip of many miles to see. Bathing by search light will be popular this season.

Mrs. C. E. Learned and daughter of Wakefield are guests of Mrs. J. R. Wheeler.

K. E. West opened up his store at Allerton April 1st. Mr. West is enthusiastic on the subject of the South from which he has recently returned. He says winter life in Florida has H. C. L. reduced to zero. It doesn't bother the one who live in Florida.

Earl Allen is busy remodeling his "twin six."

Sylvester Murphy is home this week from Wellesley for spring vacation. He and his Dad are keeping "bachelors hall" at their home on Allerton Hill. Everybody is glad to see Sylvester.

Can't talk to L.L.L. The party given by the Hull Branch S. A. S. A. P. village unit was a very enjoyable affair, and successful affair. Whist was played, Mrs. Bryant won ladies prize, a pin; and a soldier boy winning the gentleman prize, a box of candy. The consolation prize went to Mrs. Fitzpatrick, rabbit to keep away the hoodoo. The baskets were very pretty and sold well, nineteen dollars and fifty cents being realized for the work from them. When opened they were found to be full of such dainties as the women know how to cook. The prize cake was much appreciated. Miss Eva Galiano made the cake and the first winner was her mother, Mrs. J. T. Galiano, who refused to "take the cake." Mr. J. R. Wheeler did fine work as auctioneer of the baskets. The Hull Orchestra played for the dancing which was enjoyed from eleven o'clock on. There were many beautiful floral offerings. The sympathy of all is theirs. This is the second child which Mr. and Mrs. Hyland have lost.

A sad affliction has come to Mr. and Mrs. William Bacon in the death of their little daughter Lillian. She was a lovely child, bright and very cute in her sayings. We deeply sympathize with their mother and father in their loss. They are friends of ours of many years. C. T. Richardson.

Freezing to Death. Many a traveler has frozen to death while asleep. As recent scientific experiments have shown, the body's capacity to regulate temperature is diminished through sleep. This appears to apply both to heat and cold. A healthy man's nervous and muscular activity is reduced to a minimum when he falls asleep, and it is then that his temperature falls to its lowest point.

The Cohasset Fire Truck, Alfred Silva, driver, was the first to arrive at the Marshfield fire on Monday afternoon of this week, and there were several others including two from Hull, one each from Plymouth, one from Pembroke, Duxbury and Cohasset. At least 200 acres were burned over and 20 houses. It is said. The fire started about 1:15 of a mile below the Marshfield Station.

This is the first time where so many men from Cohasset got off to go huckleberrying last summer only they came back up this way and the fire was below the station. The fire was started by the train which arrives at Marshfield at 2:15 and made a clean sweep to the station. The fire was blowing with considerable velocity that day and house after house caught fire and was destroyed including some on the road to Brant Rock and some in a part of Marshfield called Rexhame. A large part of the dyke meadow was also burned. Late in the afternoon the fire was under control but still burning.

A sad misfortune to a cozy little village nestled among the woodland and one with whom all her sister townships on the South Shore will sympathize.

Scarcely a day has gone by the past ten days without an alarm at the Fire Station for from one to four grass or woodland fires a day. What came near being an exceedingly disastrous one had the wind been the other way, was that on last Sunday afternoon about 4:30 when several acres of the Congregational Church and the Charles Gammons estate on Meeting House Hill was burned over with evidence of its raging fiercely not far from the "Devil's Chair." It ran over back for some few hundred yards where it was checked before continuing down into the swamp. The C. C. was glad indeed to see the fire so early missed a fine white hazel tree which delights the eye with its yellow tasselled blooms in the late fall when everything else in nature is losing its glory for the winter. This hazel makes a bright spot much like the forsythia which blossoms so early in the spring. Good work was done by boys as well as men in checking this fire for they fought it valiantly with cedar boughs. These fires have been in all parts of the town back of the Beechwood Church at Lincoln Hills, Parker Ave., and Nichols Ave. and these are days when the value of a good up-to-date fire fighting apparatus and reliable men to handle it is clearly apparent. Having these or not having them may easily save or spell the ruin of a township.

Happy Cohasset citizens have not lost sight of this truth and for a little town, we have a pretty adequate fire protection.

Walter Smith, brother of Mr. John Smith, a sailor on the U. S. S. Lebanon whose address is Care Postmaster, Ft. Monroe, Va., has recently written to his niece, Miss Katherine Smith, and enclosed an aerostic which he composed which reads thus:

What They Spell
K is for the Kingdom he possesses,
A stands for his Aeroplane,
I means Innocence he has killed and wounded,
S is for his deadly Submarine,
E for Every wound he has inflicted,
R means Restoration he must make well.

Put them all together they spell Kaiser who would like to make this world a hell.

Through the medium of the "Citizen" Mr. Smith would like to thank Mr. George Jason, Jr., for the local papers he has sent him and Mr. Joseph Jason for cigars. Mr. Smith has been in the regular navy nearly four years. Here's wishing him Godspeed and good luck. He certainly has put in his time as an Aerostic as one could wish to read.

The Vesper Service at the Congregational Church last Sunday afternoon was especially impressive and fine with splendidly rendered music by the choir with Mr. Samuel Bates bass soloist and Mr. Frank Asper of Boston, organist, assisted by Mr. Horatio Tower, violinist and conductor. A forceful sermon was preached by Rev. Fred Stanley, pastor, and plants were given to members of the S. A. S. A. P. to shut in the parish. Mr. Miller, with his customary artistic arrangements had banked the sides and front of pulpit with masses of white and purple flowering plants until it looked like an angel's bed in all its exquisite beauty. It was a beautiful service and one long to be remembered by those who attended.

Mrs. S. Frank Treat who has been an invalid and a great sufferer for the past 21 months, was most kindly remembered at Easter with beautiful flowering plants and to those kind sympathizers who sent them she expresses her grateful appreciation for she dearly loves flowers and her friends kind thoughtfulness is very sweet to her.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stanley are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter (weight 9 lbs.) last Saturday, March 30th.

Mr. and Mrs. Lot Elmer Bates, who moved this spring into the house they bought from Rev. F. B. McAllister, have their hearts saddened by the advent of a baby boy, on Wednesday, March 27.

The sudden death on last Saturday of Mrs. John E. Gillis (nee Francis Antoine) daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Antoine of Hingham, 31 years of age, came as a most saddening shock to her many relatives and friends in town here. Mrs. Gillis came to Woodside Cemetery to attend the funeral of Mr. Edward Francis of Somerville, who was brought there for burial on last Friday. Returning to her home Mrs. Gillis was stricken with pneumonia that night and passed away on the next night, Saturday, leaving a heartbroken husband, father, mother and brother to mourn her loss. She was the only daughter and had no children herself. She was brought to Woodside Cemetery on Tuesday morning of this week following the services at her parents home and St. Paul's Church, Hingham and prayers were offered at the grave, the body of her grandmother, Mrs. John Smith, who died at the same time, also being interred at the same time. Beautiful flowers, tokens of love and sympathy, covered their graves with sweet loveliness.

Post, of which he is the Commander, and the officials and public spirited men of the town, to make Memorial Day more memorable than ever this year. One of the features of the Day, which will be most inspiring, will be the big Patriotic meeting which they propose to hold in the Town Hall Memorial Day afternoon. A chorus of 40 voices will sing at this meeting. Only seven members of Henry Bryant Post are living today. Let the whole township turn out to do them honor and also to show their appreciation of the 146 men who have gone from Cohasset since April 1st last year into the great war the world has ever known and to preserve ideals than which no nations in the world's history have fought for better. The Naval Reserves of whom there are two on Minot's Light and five living on the Government Island all the time, requisitioned from the Commonwealth Pier from which they came and the Government furnished it.

The Easter sale and luncheon of the Congregational Church was held on Wednesday from 12 to 1 o'clock. The marriage of Miss Julia Bates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Bates, to Mr. Wm. Melcher of Hingham will be solemnized on Saturday, April 27th.

Mr. Cyrus Bates, Commander of Henry Bryant Post, announces that it is the intention of the G. A. R. Post, of which he is the Commander, and the officials and public spirited men of the town, to make Memorial Day more memorable than ever this year. One of the features of the Day, which will be most inspiring, will be the big Patriotic meeting which they propose to hold in the Town Hall Memorial Day afternoon. A chorus of 40 voices will sing at this meeting. Only seven members of Henry Bryant Post are living today. Let the whole township turn out to do them honor and also to show their appreciation of the 146 men who have gone from Cohasset since April 1st last year into the great war the world has ever known and to preserve ideals than which no nations in the world's history have fought for better. Further details will be released later.

The Literary Club will meet on the 11th of April with Rev. and Mrs. Fred Stanley. A paper written by Mrs. Bert Bristol will be read by Miss Elizabeth Nichols.

Dr. Oliver H. Howe had the misfortune to break his arm on last Sunday morning while cranking his auto. He is able to attend to his professional duties, but is of course unable to run his car. His many friends will be sorry for the Doctor's suffering and inconvenience.

The many friends of Deacon Philander Bates will be sorry to hear that he is in poor health at present.

ADD HULL. Miss Helen Antone, a student of great promise in a Boston Art School, has been obliged through ill health to give up her studies for a time. Helen was so ambitious that she has overworked. Complete rest is what her physician has ordered. We all hope Helen will soon be restored to health and resume her studies, for she has a wonderful talent for designing and drawing.

NORTH COHASSET. The flowers used in decorating the Pope Memorial Church on Easter Sunday, and which afterwards were presented to the children and shut ins, were from the Cohasset Greenhouse.

Easter was observed in the M. E. Church here by Sunday School exercises at 10. At 11 an impressive sermon by the pastor, Rev. Paul D. Minnick, a solo by Mrs. Will. A. Lothrop, organist, Mrs. Fred. B. Fisher, and closing prayer and benediction by Rev. Dr. Fred B. Fisher. Four infants were christened by the pastor, the little one of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mead; little one of Mr. and Mrs. John Looke; little one of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Labrec; little one of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Strickland. The auditorium was trimmed and chancel filled with potted plants and lilies, and the beautiful service listened to and enjoyed by an audience that filled every seat in the auditorium and vestry.

A very sad affliction has come to the family of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Libbey of Hull Street. Little Bettie, six years of age, was taken sick on Saturday, grew worse on Sunday night and died at 5 Monday morning of diphtheria. Her little body was enclosed in a metallic casket in the afternoon and taken to Forest Hills for burial. Little Bettie was a sweet, lovable little girl, very bright and handsome as a picture. She was very earnest in her work for the Ladies' Aid and for the soldiers. At the Ladies' Aid fair in December a little pie was made, all alone, brought quite a sum. Every one loved her and will miss her at our gatherings. Sunday School, Junior League and at church. Jesus holds the lambs in his arms; he said, "Suffer little children to come unto me." Dear little Bettie is safe in Jesus arms forever. May God's blessings ease the agony in the most broken hearted family. Our hearts ache in sympathy with them.

HINGHAM HAPPENINGS

The W. R. C. held an all day sewing meeting on Thursday for war relief. A dinner was served at noon. In the afternoon the regular meeting was held at 2:30 o'clock. There was a good attendance.

Mrs. Bessie Hunt and Mrs. Robert Bryant attended the performance of "Fighting for the Kaiser" at the Majestic on Tuesday night and were enthusiastic about it.

The O. E. S. made a goodly sum on their recent supper which they donated to the war relief work.

The S. A. S. A. P. will be richer by about $100 as a result of the splendid success of the dance recently given by the O. E. Club.

Mrs. Corn Townsend returned Monday from a visit to Somerville to her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Townsend, who are receiving the congratulations of their friends on the birth of their second son, who came on March 24th.

There are four generations on the Sprague side of the house living. At the time Mrs. Townsend's first grandchild was born, eleven years ago, there were five living.

Can You Beat It?
James Lovell, Beal street, has 21 white rock pullets that have laid 66 eggs the month of March and which is an average of 15 eggs a day. The record Easter Sunday was 20. The month of February they laid 341 eggs. These pullets commenced laying the latter part of November. They are the "lay or bust" breed.

Mrs. Lucille Lovell, who has been at her son James' this winter, has returned to her home at So. Weymouth.

The young people connected with the Universalist Church are preparing a drama for their April social entitled, "The Best Man."

Little Barbara Linscott is recovering from her operation for appendicitis.

An odd bird has made its appearance in So. Weymouth. Several residents of Pond street, who have seen it, call it a white robin.

The nine candidates who took the Initiatory at Old Colony Lodge, Hingham I. O. O. F., went to So. Weymouth April 1 for their first degree.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Hatch of Hingham Centre are rejoicing in the advent of a daughter, born March 30th.

The Easter services at the Congregational church were special. Mr. Freeman of South Hingham was the soloist and there was a double quartette of male voices. Rev. Laurence Perry preached a fine sermon appropriate to Easter.

The church was beautifully decorated with lilies and palms.

Frances Antone Gillis, wife of Mr. Edward Gillis, died Saturday morning, after only twenty-four hours' illness with double pneumonia. Mrs. Gillis attended a funeral in Cohasset on Friday and was in her usual health. She was stricken in the evening and grew rapidly worse despite the best medical attendance.

AMANDA J. BOSWORTH REBEKAH LODGE

At the regular meeting of Amanda J. Bosworth Rebekah Lodge, held on Thursday evening, March 28, several candidates were initiated in the presence of a large number of members and visitors. At half past six a most excellent supper was served to one hundred and twenty people under the chairmanship of Sister Martha Haskell. At seven forty-five the meeting was opened, Sister Abbie F. Downing, N. G., presiding, followed by the initiatory exercises which were performed in a beautiful and impressive manner, reflecting much credit upon the officers and the degree mistress, Sister Doane of Winchester. We were honored with the presence of Sister Alice M. Rand of Allston, President of the Rebekah Assembly, accompanied by her Suite, also past presidents Sister Grainger of South Weymouth and Sister Grace Mitchell of East Weymouth. Deputy President Sister Edith Phillips of Rockland and her Suite, were also special guests. After the meeting there were speeches by the President, Past Presidents, Deputy President, Noble Grands of several Rebekah Lodges from surrounding towns; Sister Burr, Sirovich, Doane and other Sisters, also remarks were made by Brother John G. Wadsworth, N. G. of Old Colony Lodge, I. O. O. F. and Brother C. E. West. Sister Cross was the pianist and the soloist was Sister Mary Barker of Watertown, whose sweet and sympathetic voice added much to the solemnity of the degree work. The lodge has started the new year with a great deal of enthusiasm and it promises to be a very successful year under our new Noble Grand, Abbie F. Downing. The only unpleasant feature of the whole affair was the saying goodbye to one of our members, Bertram Berry, who was leaving for Camp the next day. He takes with him the love and best wishes of the whole lodge.

The largest fire Marshfield has known was started by the R. R. Monday P. M. It first started by Mr. Fred Peterson and went by Mr. James Stevenson's, crossing the road by Mr. Emory Lowe's. It burned two barns on the old John Henry Bourne's place, now owned by Mr. Beswick, Mr. Algier Brown's, Mr. Charles Brown's, Mr. Ball's and going from there over to Roxhome Terrace, burning a building in the Sherill's place, also Sargent's and Dunsmore's.

The R. R. sent help, also Cohasset, Hull, Duxbury, Plymouth and Pembroke sent fire engines. Marshfield fire department showed their metal by fighting from the beginning to the end. But for them, Mr. Fred Donny's place and Mr. Frank Harlow's would have gone.

The Easter service in the 1st Congregational was very fine. Also the O. E. service in the evening. Both services were well attended.

AN AIRPLANE CAMERA

This type of camera which no doubt will be used by American aviation corps men for reconnaissance work is attached to the airplane and is operated by the pulling of strings or the pressing of buttons. The camera is almost automatic, as everything can be set in advance and the entire operation of taking the picture is the pressing of the button or the pulling of the strings. The camera makes an almost perfect view of the terrain and will be invaluable in the reconnaissance work of the army. The camera is loaded with plates and a number of pictures can be taken successfully without additional work. A British royal flying corps man is in the machine.

MARS AND STORK COMBINE

Male Predominate In Denver Since the United States Entered the War.

Denver, Colo.—That old man Mars, the god of war and destruction, has a working agreement with that humble and beloved bird, the stork, to leave boy babies instead of little sisters on his visits to Denver homes since the United States entered the struggle against Germany, is claimed by those who dole out vital statistics in this city.

John W. Flintham, deputy health commissioner of Denver, has compiled figures showing that of the 1,831 children born here from January 1 to August 1, of this year, 1,141 were boys.

Several physicians maintain that male children are more numerous during war times than at any other period, and say that during the past six months five out of every eight children born have been boys.

And, despite the fact that she would prefer to see suitcases increasing, Dr. Alice T. Moore reports that of the last 54 babies she has ushered into the world, 43 have been boys.

WOMEN OF PRINCETON ADOPT ENTIRE VILLAGE

Princeton, N. J.—The committee of women in charge of the Rose Cottage tea house annex, which provides lodging and meals at very reasonable rates, have "adopted" the little village of St. Paul-aux-Bois in the Alsace region of France.

In the great drive on Paris in 1914 the Germans swept through the little village, which was held in the grasp of the invaders until the retreat after the battle of the Somme. The 575 inhabitants were left destitute.

Through the operation of the annex, the committee regularly realizes a neat sum, which is being steadily forwarded to the French villagers.

$45,000 PEARLS ARE SOUGHT

Package Containing 535 Gems Stolen From Vessel Which Recently Arrived at New York.

New York.—A search of New York city pawnshops is being made by Pinkerton detectives for $45,000 worth of pearls which were stolen from a French ship that arrived on November 20. There were 535 pearls in the missing package, of which the three largest weighed between 25 and 28 grains each. The others weighed from one to three grains each.

It is said that the pearls were sent by a Paris dealer to one here; that to avoid an extra rate the shipper did not reveal to the company the character of the shipment, and that it was not placed in the ship's strong room.

IN MISERY FOR YEARS

Mrs. Courtney Tells How She Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Oskaloosa, Iowa.—"For years I was simply in misery from a weakness and nothing seemed to do me any good. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and got relief right away. I can certainly recommend this valuable medicine to other women who suffer, for it has done such good work for me and I know it will help others if they will give it a fair trial."

—Mrs. LIZZIE COURTNEY, 108 8th Ave., West, Oskaloosa, Iowa.

Why will women drag along from day to day, year in and year out, suffering such misery as did Mrs. Courtney, when such letters as this are continually being published. Every woman who suffers from displacements, irregularities, inflammation, ulceration, backache, nervousness, or who is passing through the Change of Life should give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial.

The letters constantly being published from women in every section of this country prove beyond question the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

ARMY SUPPLIES IN CHAIN OF CITIES

Three Towns Behind the Lines in France Hold Great Stores.

BAKERY SYSTEM A FEATURE

Forty Shipments of White Bread Made Daily—All Facilities Being Enlarged—One Town Is Storage Center.

Behind the American Front in France—Less spectacular than the continued arrival of American troops and their occupation of a definite front sector, yet in its way quite as important for their success, has been the steady development of the system of keeping them in the myriad supplies they must have.

Keeping pace with the increasing training camps there has grown up a storage, transportation and distribution system that not only accurately and efficiently supplies the needs of all our soldiers but is continually being enlarged against future needs. Neither troops nor supplies can come too fast for it.

The various functions of the system—baking, refrigerating plant, warehouses for clothing, non-perishable foods and similar supplies, and the main distributing plant—are located for convenience sake in three towns or cities situated respectively at the three corners of an obtuse triangle, and near enough to the training camps and front so that supplies can reach the furthest points in 24 hours.

Bakery is Great Industry.

No link in the chain between "a port in France" and the American front is, perhaps, more interesting than the bakery.

The supplying of the American troops in France with white bread has become a great industry and is growing all the time. The few bakers originally here have grown into companies; the relatively small daily quantity of bread turned out in July has increased to scores of thousands of pounds, and entire shiploads of flour are arriving weekly and are being stored away in warehouses with capacity of millions of pounds as a reserve against the arrival of still more troops.

The American army first took possession of a huge bakery in a central French city, formerly operated by a German, and having a capacity for storing 1,500,000 pounds of flour, in addition to a not inconsiderable daily output of bread from its ovens.

Those making the arrangements knew that the time would soon come when the city bakery would be inadequate, so they went outside of the city and leased from the French a tract of land consisting of several thousand acres, upon which the conventional military wooden shacks soon sprang up and where there is room for an indefinite number of additional field bakeries as the need may arise.

By the time the city bakery had reached its capacity the shacks were fully equipped with the very latest in baking machinery.

Spur tracks have been constructed out to the field from the city, and over them carloads of bread leave each morning and afternoon for the training camps and the front.

Each baking company has for some time been exceeding the limit of 30,000 pounds a day and has been turning out from 33,000 to 35,000 pounds. The men, 101 to a company, work in two 12-hour shifts. Their product, chiefly great, round, hard-crusted loaves, con-

Indian Rajput at Cambrai Escapes Without Scratch in Daring Mission.

IS GIVEN VICTORIA CROSS

Delivers Messages Which Perhaps Saved Battalion of British From Extermination—Three Horses Shot Under Him.

London.—Lieut. Gobind Singh has the Victoria Cross and he earned it. He is a Rajput from India and he is a brave man. Three times he dashed into what seemed almost certain death and he escaped without a scratch, although the horses were shot from under him. And furthermore he delivered messages about forty separate shipments that are made daily—by train, motor truck and horse-drawn vehicles.

The bread is supplemented by biscuits and rolls at breakfast and supper.

In the city itself the Americans found one of the largest refrigerating and meat storage warehouses in France, and absorbed it last July, though it was then many times larger than their needs. Its capacity is close to two million pounds, and while it has at times been nearly full, the supply is never permitted to fall below half a million pounds. There are more than 600,000 pounds there now.

Direct railroad lines lead not only from the bakery and the refrigerating plant to the camps but also from the seaports and the city.

Several miles westward, at the lower apex of the triangle, lies another French town which has been all but bodily taken over by the Americans as a storage center. Here non-perishable foods—canned goods, salt, sugar and vegetables other than those bought fresh from the French peasants—are stored.

One of the largest buildings which the Americans have taken over is devoted to equipment. Here are stored many thousands of uniforms and every article of clothing from shoes and caps to buttons and handkerchiefs. The needs of the troops is estimated at several pairs of shoes a year and three or four uniforms.

ered messages which perhaps saved a battalion from extermination. There is no prouder Indian in Great Britain or France than Lieutenant Singh. It is nothing unusual to see a soldier salute when he passes—just out of admiration.

Graves Barrage Fire.

It was at Cambrai that he went through the bullet-swept areas to deliver his precious messages. The officer in command of his battalion felt it imperative to send word to the general staff, and volunteers were asked for. Lieutenant Singh offered his services. He mounted a horse and fared forth into No Man's Land. Five others had volunteered and been killed in the rain of machine gun bullets from the German lines, but a few hundred yards away. Singh galloped at full speed into the region of death. He is a skillful rider and his charger was experienced. A short distance away a horse fell under him. The Indian finished his trip of 600 yards afoot.

The message required a reply and he volunteered to deliver it. He sallied forth on another horse and with his body glued to that animal he plunged ahead with the machine gun fire again playing on him. A second time his horse was killed. He finished this journey also on foot running as swiftly as his trained legs could carry him. His colleagues cheered him as he dropped into the friendly trench and all agreed that he led a charmed life.

Makes Third Trip.

But his task was not finished. His officer found that if one more message could be sent to the staff the battalion might be rescued. Singh said he would go a third time. The officers offered him his choice of horses and he selected a splendid animal, which he crossed before undertaking the last and most dangerous dash of all. The distance he had to go was a mile and a half. He covered almost half the distance and heard not a shot. But instantly a barrage started from the German guns. A British sentinel in a shell hole warned him to pause, saying no human being could get through the curtain of shell fire alive. But Singh ignored the warning. He spurred his horse to new speed. A shell struck the animal and almost tore it to pieces. Singh dropped to the ground and half crawling and half dragging himself he finished his perilous journey without receiving a bullet wound. To the astonishment of the officers who had watched with breathless excitement his plunge through the shadow of death the Indian asked if he were to make a return trip. He was told it was not necessary. A short time later, due to the order he had delivered, his battalion was rescued from a most dangerous position.

Little Miss Naturally Connected Cruelty of the Savior's Slayers With German Character.

Mary was a very serious-minded young miss of ten and was keenly interested in the religious education of her younger sister, Dorothy, aged six. Indeed, she felt that the little sister's education in Biblical stories had been sadly neglected. One day she confided to her mother that Dorothy was very ignorant on the subject of the crucifixion and the resurrection and should be enlightened before the next Easter time came around.

The mother suggested to Mary that she be the one to tell the little sister the stories, and to make them just as vivid and real as she could.

This Mary did, and at the close of the recital the only comment made by Dorothy was this:

"Say, were those men Germans?"—Harper's Magazine.

Didn't Get It.

As a result of a baby having been left on his front porch a few days ago, Homer D. Basset, druggist at 604 Massachusetts avenue, has been the brunt of many attempted jokes. Two young women of the neighborhood entered his store the other day, and hoping to have a little fun, smiled and said to Mr. Basset: "Well, how's pop?"

"Five cents a bottle," was Mr. Basset's reply, after which the girls gave up.—Indianapolis News.

YOU NEED NOT SUFFER WITH BACKACHE AND RHEUMATISM

For centuries GOLD MEDAL Haerlem Oil has been a standard household remedy for kidney, liver, bladder and stomach trouble, and all diseases connected with the urinary organs. The kidneys and bladder are the most important organs of the body. They are the filters, the purifiers of your blood. If the poisons which enter your system through the blood and stomach are not entirely thrown out by the kidneys and bladder you are doomed.

Weariness, sleeplessness, nervousness, dependency, backache, stomach trouble, headache, pain in loins, and lower abdomen, gallstones, gravel, difficulty when urinating, cloudy and bloody urine, rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago, all warn you to look after your kidneys and bladder. GOLD MEDAL Haerlem Oil Capsules are what you need.

They are not a "patent medicine" nor a "new discovery." For 200 years they have been a standard household remedy. They are the pure, original imported Haerlem Oil your great-grandmother used, and are perfectly harmless. CO-OPERATIVE FARMING IN MAN POWER NECESSARY TO WIN THE BATTLE FOR LIBERTY

The Food Controllers of the United States and Canada are asking for greater food production. Scarcely 100,000,000 bushels of wheat are available to be sent to the allies overseas before the crop harvest. Upon the efforts of the United States and Canada rests the burden of supply.

Every Available Tillable Acre Must Contribute; Every Available Farmer and Farm Hand Must Assist

Western Canada has an enormous acreage to be seeded, but man power is short, and an appeal to the United States allies is for more men for seeding operation.

Canada's Wheat Production Last Year was 225,000,000 Bushels; the Demand From Canada Alone for 1918 is 400,000,000 Bushels

To secure this she must have assistance. She has the land but needs the men. The Government of the United States wants every man who can effectively help, to do farm work this year. It wants the land in the United States developed first of course; but it also wants to help Canada. Whenever we find a man we can spare to Canada's fields after ours are supplied, we want to direct him there.

Apply to our Employment Service, and we will tell you where you can best serve the combined interests.

Western Canada's help will be required not later than April 5th. Wages to competent help, $50.00 a month and up, board and lodging.

Those who respond to this appeal will get a warm welcome, good wages, good board and find comfortable homes. They will get a rate of one cent a mile from Canadian boundary points to destination and return.

Over and Under the Wall

By VINCENT G. PERRY

(Copyright, 1918, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

It was the tallest wall in the village, and it separated the gardens of Tom Blake's uncle and Celia Miller's aunt. The wall had never seemed such a formidable thing until Celia's Aunt Jane had forbidden Tom the grounds, and then it was all the fault of Tug, Tom's bulldog. This is how it happened:

Tom had known Celia very well in the city, and when she left to live with her aunt in the country village he discovered life was dull without her. Of course, her letters were bright and cheerful, and after he showed what a good correspondent he was, they were numerous. It was a happy coincidence that he discovered he had an uncle living right next door to her aunt, and the first vacation he had he came to spend with his uncle.

If he had left Tug at home all would have been well, but the old dog needed an outing, and he brought him along. Celia was delighted with his visit, and her maiden aunt looked on him with reserved favor for the first two days; but the crash came the third day. It was the first time Tom had taken Tug to visit Celia, and it was just his luck to have Aunt Jane and her pet poodle Flossie in the garden. Tug spied Flossie, and before Tom could stop him poor Flossie was being rolled unmercifully about the grass, while Aunt Jane screamed at the top of her voice and Celia pounded at Tug with a rake-handle. If Tom had known how things were going to turn out he would have known better than to laugh, but his laughter and the frantic antics of the women urged Tug to greater effort. Before Tom could call him off, Flossie was spinning about like a rubber ball.

"Get out of here with your vicious dog, and don't ever enter our garden again or speak to my niece, or I'll have you arrested!" Aunt Jane fairly screamed at him, after Flossie had been restored.

Tom sobered at once, and tried to explain that the dogs had only been indulging in a very friendly dog game, but without avail. Celia understood, but her aunt was aroused beyond understanding. Tom thought it best to retreat, especially as Celia had burst into tears.

At first he had thought Aunt Jane would repent and allow him at least to speak to her niece, but she didn't. He had to console himself with a few stolen moments of conversation over the wall each day. Even that was denied him at length, for Celia left the ladder against the wall and Aunt Jane found it up. Then when Aunt Jane found that they had been meeting in the village, Celia wasn't sent on any more errands. Not to be daunted, Tom set to work to make a rope ladder, but it was more difficult than he had expected, and it took him two or three days to complete it. While he was working Celia found a way to communicate with him. She stationed herself in an upstairs window, overlooking his uncle's garden and, although neither of them could talk the deaf and dumb language, they originated a series of signs by which they could understand each other perfectly. If signs have the same effect that words are reputed to have, Aunt Jane's ears must have burned.

The ladder was finally completed, and when Aunt Jane was taking her afternoon nap, Celia stole to the garden. Tom had been waiting for her. At the sound of her voice, he climbed up the ladder on his side of the fence, perched on the wall, lowered the rope for her to use and fastened it on the end of his ladder. Celia was a trifle doubtful of the strength of the rope, but he reassured her.

"There," she gasped as she reached the top of the wall and Tom assisted her to sit beside him. "I was afraid I would fall every step. What would you say?"

"Hang your aunt!" Tom grumbled. "She's a mean old thing or she wouldn't think you were a child!"

"She's my aunt—besides, I'm not so old."

"Now, don't defend her because she is your aunt. Don't you mean all those things you said about her—or signed about her, I would say?"

"Did you understand those signs?" she laughed.

"Every one of them."

"Not every one! Oh, Tom, are you sure?"

"Well, maybe I didn't, but I understood some signs that weren't about your aunt. Did you understand any of mine?"

"Yes, most of them. Some of the things you said were too daring. Tom, what would aunt say if she knew you had been making love to me?"

"Hang your aunt!" he exclaimed again.

"Hang your dog, I say!" she said, with a chuckle.

"Wasn't that funny?" Tom laughed.

"Why, old Tug wouldn't have hurt Flossie for the world. It was only playing, and if your aunt hadn't been so mean they would have been great friends."

"Why, they are now! Every time Flossie is out without aunt she tries to dig her way under your garden. Old Tug must have made a hit."

"Then so did Flossie, for I've had to box the old fellow's ears half a dozen times this week for digging holes under the wall. If he had got through and hurt that poodle it would have ended it for us for sure. Your aunt would probably have had me arrested."

There was a terrific shriek from the front of Aunt Jane's house, and if Tom had not caught hold of Celia she would have fallen from the wall.

"Old Tug at Flossie again!" Tom gasped.

"No, it's not; there is Tug digging a hole under the wall!"

"It's something worse, then. Come on!" Tom vaulted from the top of the wall, landed in Aunt Jane's garden, and assisted Celia to come down the ladder. As her feet touched the ground he seized her arm and they raced across the grass in the direction from which the screams were coming.

"It's Flossie, after all!" Celia panted to regain her breath.

Sure enough it was Flossie, but this time her tormentor was a big mongrel dog, and he had hold of her by the throat and was shaking her almost to death. Aunt Jane was looking too terrified to do any thing but scream.

"Where's that rake handle!" Tom cried excitedly. "Flossie will be dead in a minute if we don't do something."

But the rake handle was no place to be found, and Celia and Tom nearly fell over themselves in their endeavor to find it.

"Save Flossie! Save her!" Aunt Jane was screaming.

There was nothing for it but to tackle the dog bare-handed, but as Tom ran to do it, something shot like a streak of lightning from under the wall and the mongrel dog was rolled over and over. Tug had come to the rescue.

"They will kill my Flossie!" Aunt Jane cried, but the mongrel had dropped the poodle the instant Tug's teeth had settled in his throat. Flossie was gone, and she did not desert her rescuer until Tug had dragged the mongrel away.

After it was all over, Aunt Jane took Tug by the neck and begged him, "You dear old thing," she said, "next to Flossie you are the most wonderful dog in the world."

"Come, Tug, we had better go," Tom said, as Aunt Jane looked up.

"Oh, don't take him yet! He and Flossie are just getting to be friends. Won't you stay to tea?" Aunt Jane invited. "Celia will be delighted to have you."

"Thank you, I will," Tom smiled, for Celia was talking in their sign language behind her aunt's back.

Lark's Wonderful Song.
You who have heard a skylark sing may not realize what a wonderful songster that small bird is. The volume of sound produced by the skylark is most wonderful. The lark ascends until it looks no larger than a midge, and can with difficulty be seen by the unaided eye, and yet every note will be clearly audible to persons who are fully half a mile from the nest over which the bird utters its song. Moreover, it never ceases to sing for a moment, a feat which seems wonderful to us human beings, who find that a song of six or seven minutes in length, though interspersed with rests and pauses, is more than trying. Even a practiced public speaker, though he can pause at the end of each sentence, finds the applause of the audience a very welcome relief. Moreover, the singer and speaker need to use no exertion save exercising their voices. Yet the bird will pour out a continuous song of nearly 20 minutes in length, and all the time has to support itself in the air by the constant use of its wings.—Exchange.

Hot Diet.
At a miners' union meeting held at Bisbee at the time there was an attempt being made to unionize the camp the question arose as to whether Mexicans admitted to the union should be allowed to work underground. One speaker opposed any such thought on the grounds of difference in economic qualities of the whites and Mexicans. Waxing warm to his subject, he shouted, "How do they live? You all know. What do they wear? You all know. What do they eat?" A voice from the back of the hall answered: "Chili Killarney and torpedoes."

CHANGE IN THE FARMER'S LIFE

"Making a Living" Idea Has Developed Into a "Money Making Fact"

A few years ago—and not so many at that—most farmers were satisfied if they saw ahead of them the opportunity to make a fair living, a reasonable competence in their falling years, and an assurance of an existence for their families. They worked hard, and tilled their acres with this end in view. Honest struggle, earnest effort and a true conception of upright manhood, together with the increasing knowledge that upon the fruits of their endeavor rested the structure of the world, whose people had to be fed and maintained. Economy in method. Improved conditions of working, have added to the farmer's possibilities, and today instead of being a plodder for an existence, which his early training had bred into him, he has become the bulwark of the nation, and, as such, has become elevated to a position where his word and his work are recognized as the factors it was always intended they should be. He is now the man of business—of big business. He has forced an appreciation of his work, and the true value has been placed upon it. The big men of the country today are the farmers, who, with business acumen and forensic forethought are able to tell you—from their books—what it costs to produce a bushel of wheat or a pound of wool.

All of which is intended to prove that farming is a business, as much as banking or selling a suit of clothes. It is an industrial business, with more certain profits than accompany any other line of trade. It is a manufacturing enterprise, devoid of any of the dangers that the frills of fashion's fancies and desires force upon ordinary pursuits. Food is something that all must have and the farmer produces it. The cheaper it can be produced the less will be the cost to the consumer. And this is one of the chief thoughts of the farmer. Within the memory of the ten-year-old boy there have been improvements in machinery, changes in methods, scientific discoveries of chemicals as adapted to agriculture, all of which have lessened cost of production and made possible the cultivation of increased acres. In some parts these things have brought about more intensified agriculture, growing heavier crops on less acres. Improved machinery and demand for greater production have led another class in search of larger areas, where their ability may cope with the growing of a greater number of bushels. That is one of the reasons why Western Canada lands have recently come into such demand.

These, at from twenty to thirty dollars an acre, and producing the prodigious crops that are claimed for them, have attracted thousands of American settlers, while other thousands have gone out into the lands in the Western states. But, as to the Canada lands, there is this to say of them, today they are cheap, and if they will yield sufficient in one year to pay the cost of the entire purchase, why should not there be a demand. The country is well settled, and settlement is increasing. As evidence of the growth of the three Western Provinces into what territories the Canadian Government invites settlers, recent reports show the following increases from 1913 to 1917 inclusive:

	1913	1917
Manitoba	$64,537,000	$137,470,550
Saskatchewan	129,370,000	340,488,200
Alberta	48,712,000	178,905,800

Total$240,645,000 $656,824,550
The total value of field crops for 1917 was $283,024,550, produced on less than 58,000,000 acres of land.

Further evidence of prosperity and progress is found in the Government estimate of the value of farm lands, and increase in value since 1908:

	1908	1918
Manitoba	27.30	32.03
Saskatchewan	20.40	23.37
Alberta	18.20	22.18

It will be observed that the average price of lands has not kept pace with their producing value. It is therefore pointed out that the opportunities for the purchase of high-class land is still within the reach of those with limited means.

A good idea of advancement in a country's progress may be obtained by a knowledge of what has been done in the production of cattle, and when these figures are studied in connection with Western Canada, a country whose fame having been heralded as a grain-growing country, giving the idea that that was what it was mostly adapted to, it will be realized that there is there a vast storehouse of wealth awaiting those who choose to take advantage of it. In the three provinces in 1912 there were—horses, milch cows, other cattle, sheep and swine, four million head, while in 1917 the number was seven million.

In 1901 the entire population was 419,512; in 1916 1,098,220.

One marvels at the rapid progress of the United States during the nineteenth century. But America's opportunities for growth at the beginning of that century were nothing compared to the opportunities which are Canada's at the present time.

The fact that Canada has as its next door neighbor a nation of over 100,000,000—the richest nation in the world—is bound to have a stimulating effect on its progress. Already one sees signs of it on every hand.

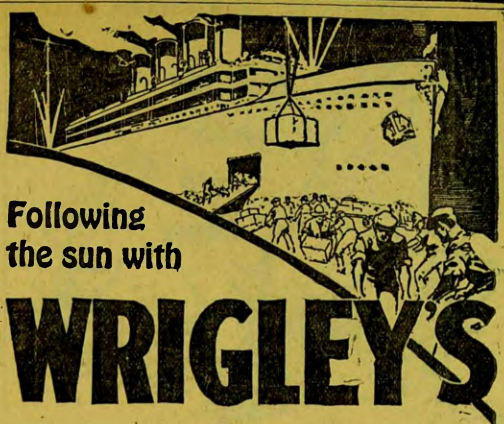

Canada not only has the largest area of uncultivated, but fertile, land of any country, but this land is already made available by a network of railways. Cost of production of grain is lower than elsewhere, while the prices are on a basis of those of the United States.—Advertisement.

He was four years old and was sent to the grocery to get a can of beans for the Monday lunch. The youngster was fond of this dish and after the can was opened and the contents emptied into a dish took particular pains to place the beans near his plate. He soon had helped himself to a fair portion and just as soon had eaten it. He helped himself the second time and had just finished the third helping when his father, seeing what he was doing, suddenly said:

"Son, are you not going to eat anything with your beans?" And the lad quietly remarked: "Yes, pass the salt and pepper."

Proceeds from the sale of the hide, fat, and other by-products covered all expense of dressing, refrigeration, freight, selling expense and the profit of $1.29 per steer as shown by Swift & Company's 1917 figures as follows:

Average price paid for live cattle per steer	$84.45
Average price received for meat	68.97

THESPIAN TOPICS

CASTLE SQUARE

All movie lovers will be delighted to hear that Mary Pickford is to be seen on the screen at the Castle Square Theatre next week. Already heroine of a hundred characters in pictures, she has none more pleasing and piquant than the heroine of "Amirly of Clothesline Alley," which is a film version of the popular novel of the same name. With Miss Pickford during the first half of the week will also be seen Shorty Hamilton in "Denny from Ireland." Beginning Thursday and continuing for the remainder of the week there will be offered a novelty in the presentation of Rayward Kipling's novel, "The Naulahka," a romantic tale that lends itself readily to the making of an intensely interesting photoplay. Charlie Chaplin will also appear in "The Emigrant," one of his best and funniest pictures. All through the week will be shown other pictures of the Heart-Pathé News, and the Castle Square Players in a varied medley of songs and dances.

APOLLO THEATRE

The Apollo Theatre, corner Nantasket avenue and Bay street, Nantasket, will open for the season on April 19th and 20th with a good bill. A six-reel photo play, comic reel, and other features will be presented. The show on Saturday will be a brand new one. Until further notice good shows will be given every Saturday night. Mr. Davidson is again manager. Anastas Bros. opine that they have learned something from last year's experience and will be able to give the public better service in fact shows will be best ever.

"GETTING TOGETHER"

New War Play with Blanche Bates and Holbrook Blinn in Leading Roles to be Seen at Majestic Theatre, Boston, Next Week.

A dramatic and humorous play based on incidents of the present war will be presented at the Majestic Theatre, Boston, for two weeks, beginning Monday, April 1st, and bids fair to be one of the most spectacular and novel productions seen in this city for many years. It is under the auspices of the American, British and Canadian forces, and among its authors is Ian Hay (Major Beith), the author of "The First 100,000," J. Hartley Manners, the author of "Peg o' my Heart," and Percival Knight, Lieut. Gitz Rice and Harry B. Smith, with music by Frank Tour.

The title, "Getting Together," tells its own story in two words. The play is in three acts and seven scenes, showing actual trench service, the festivities in a ruined French village; an exact replica of a British war tank in action on the stage; an actual battle scene in motion pictures, the property of the British Government. This production, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to the charities of the United States, British and French Governments, will embrace a cast which includes Blanches Bates and Holbrook Blinn, with Percival Knight, Harrison Brockbank, William Roselle, Harriet Sterling, Suzanne Feday and many other notables. The entire production is under the direction of Holbrook Blinn, one of the most successful producers of thrillers America has ever brought forth. Regular prices will prevail and matinees will be given as usual on Wednesday and Saturday.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE

"THE COUNTRY COUSIN"
Alexander Carlisle, who is now playing at the Hollis Street Theatre, in the new Booth Tarkington-Julian Street comedy, "The Country Cousin," is equally well known in England and the United States as an actress of great personal charm and versatility. Her most important American roles in recent seasons have been the plays in which E. H. Sothern appeared, following the retirement of Julia Marlowe. These include "The Two Virtues" and the revival of "David Garrick" and "I Were King."

In London Miss Carlisle played Portia to Sir Herbert Tree's Shylock in "The Merchant of Venice." Her first great London success was achieved as Catherine in "The Morals of Marcus," a role played in this country by Marie Dodo. Miss Carlisle was leading woman for Nat Goodwin during his last season, and she created a number of important roles in the English production of American successes, including "Bought and Paid For," "A Woman's Way" and "Everywoman."

Miss Carlisle has decided to remain in this country and to confine her acting activities to the American stage. She has married an American physician and has become a resident of Massachusetts.

"The Country Cousin" represents an attempt to contrast the modes of life in the average American small town with the life of the more sophisticated cities of the Atlantic coast.

Sunday Concert, April 7th.
Messrs. Taylor and Fetherston of the Hollis at Theatre executive staff are completing plans for the big Sunday performance which is the annual feature of this house, and which performances hitherto have been productive of the enthusiastic praise as well as hearty response by their many friends. This year the performance will be given on Sunday evening, April 7th, 1918. This year's performance will eclipse those of previous years in magnitude of the bill offered and in excellence of each of the numbers. Many of the features of current attractions will be on the bill, and all who come are assured of an enjoyable evening. Seats are now on sale.

Filipino Legend.

A Philippine legend tells of the origin of head hunting. In warfare the Igorot always brings home the heads of his victims. One day the Moon, a woman, was hunting out brass. The young child of the Sun stood near by, watching. He was angry at the Moon, and she threw a stick at him, causing deception. The Sun then appeared and put his child's head back on his trunk, declaring that because of the Moon's wanton act mortals would henceforth cut off each other's heads when in wrath.

All About W. S. S.

WHAT Are They?

They are War Savings Stamps.

They are of two kinds—United States Thrift Stamps (25c each). United States War Savings Stamps ($4.12 plus 1 cent for each month since January).

Sixteen U. S. Thrift Stamps plus from 12 to 23 cents in cash will purchase a War Savings Stamp, which when affixed to a War Savings Certificate is the guarantee of the Government and the people of the United States to repay on January 1, 1923, the full amount with interest at 4% compounded quarterly.

The U. S. Thrift card is a pocket-sized card given free of charge to purchasers of U. S. Thrift Stamps.

The War Savings Certificate is a pocket-sized folder given to holders of War Savings Stamps. War Savings Stamps are as safe as the United States.

WHY Should I Buy Them?

Because we are at war;

Because the more we save, the more labor and material will be available for the use of the government and for the support of our army;

Because we must have dollars as well as men in the fight for freedom;

Because they establish the soundest and simplest basis of saving, which is the key to individual success;

Because there is no safer investment in the world;

Because War Savings Stamps must increase each month in value.

HOW Can I Buy Them?

As simple as buying postage stamps.

This is the simplest security ever offered by a great government to its people. Any man, woman or child who can save twenty-five cents can obtain at any Postoffice or Bank a U. S. Government Thrift Stamp and a thrift card to which to attach it. This starts you as an investor, and puts you behind the Government.

WHEN Shall I Buy Them?

Buy them NOW, because the cost increases one cent every month after January 31, 1918. The sooner you buy them the less they cost.

The price of War Savings Stamps increases one cent each month until in December, 1918, when the price is $4.23.

The cost is as follows:

Jan. $4.12	Apr. $4.15	July $4.18	Oct. $4.21
Feb. 4.13	May 4.16	Aug. 4.19	Nov. 4.22
Mar. 4.14	June 4.17	Sept. 4.20	Dec. 4.23

No commissions are charged to you, or paid to any one.

Our soldiers and sailors may give their lives; you are asked only to lend your money.

WHERE Can I Buy Them?

At any Postoffice, Bank, Trust Company, and many other authorized selling agencies.
